The 2001 season marks Bob Nelligan's 23rd season at the helm of the Maryland gymnastics program. He is one of only three Maryland head coaches to have been with the Terps for over 20 years. In that time, Nelligan has been the driving force behind the Terps' success. His love for the sport and for his athletes is unique in today's world of gymnastics and has earned him the respect of the gymnastics world and his athletes.

With a lifetime coaching record of 357-317-2 (.530 winning percentage), Nelligan has witnessed and adapted to the numerous changes that collegiate gymnastics has undergone. As gymnasts have gotten stronger, so has Nelligan's recruiting of the top gymnasts in the country. During Nelligan's career with the Terps, they have qualified for the NCAA Southeast Region Championships 11 times, including six consecutive from 1983 to '89. Prior to the Terps' entrance into the Southeast Region in the 1983-84 season, the Terps competed in the East Region and qualified for the championships four of the seven seasons that they were members. He has the respect of all of his colleagues at Maryland and nationwide and is recognized as one of the top gymnastics coaches in the country. In 1999 Nelligan was acknowledged for his contributions to collegiate gymnastics when he was honored as both the East Atlantic Gymnastics League and Southeast Region Coach of the Year, the first awards he has received in a prestigious career.

Maryland's level of success is only achieved through a strict regiment of training and conditioning, which Nelligan implements on a year-round basis. Nelligan is constantly striving to be the best and expects his gymnasts to do the same, both in athletics and in academics. Last season, in addition to having six All-EAGL first team selections and seven All-EAGL second team selections, Maryland had 13 gymnasts earn All-EAGL academic honors, surpassing the team record of 12 from 1999. Nelligan is responsible for ensuring that this level of success is constantly maintained. He is the Maryland Terrapin team leader and the dedication and enthusiasm of the Terrapin gymnasts is a direct reflection of Nelligan's attitude and work ethic.

Jill Fisher and Bob Nelligan celebrate a successful routine.

Even though his work with the gymnastics team consumes most of his time throughout the year, Nelligan still finds time to focus his energies on several other projects. He is the Assistant Director of the Maryland Gymkana Troupe, the only touring exhibitional gymnastics troupe in the country. They perform nationwide and have become a main attraction on the Maryland campus. Nelligan is also the co-founder of the Maryland Gymkana Camp and on numerous occasions has been a guest lecturer in the Health and Human Performance Department. He is also a director and master staff member at the Woodward Gymnastics Camp in Woodward, Pa., and is a member of the National Association of Collegiate Gymnastics Coaches, the U.S. Elite Coaches Association and the University of Massachusetts Alumni Association. Nelligan has also taught numerous classes regarding athletics and is striving to take athletics to another level through his pioneering of a wellness program for all of the varsity athletes at Maryland. This program is currently in the process of being implemented to each varsity sport and will ensure that athletes achieve their highest potential through the best means possible.

Originally from Braintree, Mass., Nelligan has more than 25 years of gymnastics experience. Prior to accepting the position of head coach at Maryland for the 1978-1979 season, Nelligan worked in various capacities at the Masters School in Dobbs Ferry, N.Y. From 1973 to 1975 he was a physical education instructor at the Masters School and also coached several teams, including gymnastics, lacrosse and softball. In addition to these responsibilities, Nelligan was named the Chairman of the Physical Education Department in 1975 for the Masters School. From 1972 to 1973 Nelligan was the head instructor and coach at the Marvateens Gymnastics School in Rockville, Md., and before that was an instructor and coach at the Weymouth South School in Weymouth, Mass. Nelligan received his B.S. in physical education from the University of Massachusetts in 1971.

Nelligan and his wife, Chris, have two children: Brett and Kelsey.

Assistant Coach Wendy Marshall

3rd season at Maryland

Michigan '96

The 2001 season marks Wendy Marshall's third year as the Terrapins' assistant coach. Marshall, who made a dramatic impact in the first year, continuously brings energy and determination to the Maryland women's gymnastics team. A 10 time All-American, Marshall epitomizes the level of enthusiasm and perfection that comes with making a Terp gymnast and was rewarded for her efforts 1999, earning Southeast Region Assistant Coach of the Year.

Here at Maryland Marshall has helped the team increase their success. Marshall coached the Terps' beam team in both the 1999 and the 2000 seasons, which was ranked nationally in the top six for the entire 1999 season and ranked as high as No. 5 in 2000. Her enthusiasm is great motivation for the team and she is bound to make many more positive things happen during her time at Maryland.

Each summer for the past six years, Marshall has been a member of the senior coaching staff at the University of Michigan Gymnastics Camp in Ann Arbor. In addition, from fall 1996 until the summer of 1998, Marshall was a physical education teacher, the head of the intramural program and head gymnastics coach for Pioneer High School in Ann Arbor. In both seasons with the Pioneer Gymnastics Team, the team won the conference championship.

Marshall earned a full athletic scholarship from the University of Michigan in 1992, and was a four-year varsity letterwinner and two-time Michigan co-MVP. She was one of the Big Ten Conference's most enthusiastic performers and an extremely consistent and solid gymnast each season with the Wolverines.

In Marshall's first season at Michigan, 1993, she was named a NCAA second team All-American on vault and earned All-Big Ten Conference honors. She tied for sixth on vault at the NCAA Central Region Championships, placed sixth in the all-around, 10th on bars, and 18th on floor at the Big Ten Conference Championships.

Marshall's breakout season was 1994 as she earned

NCAA second team All-American honors on vault and all-around, was named to the All-Big Ten Conference team and earned Michigan co-MVP honors. At the NCAA Championships, Marshall finished 11th on vault (9.9) and 16th in the all-around (38.875). She captured the vault title at the NCAA Central Region Championships with a perfect 10. This was the first of her career and marked only the second time in Michigan history that a gymnast had scored a perfect 10.

The 1995 season saw Marshall named a NCAA first team All-American on beam, vault, and all-around and also earn All-Big Ten Conference honors. She was also voted Michigan's most improved performer and co-MVP. At the 1995 NCAA Championships, Marshall finished eighth on beam (9.825), vault (9.625) and all-around (39.275). At the NCAA Central Region Championships, she won her second consecutive vault title by scoring a perfect 10, her third of the season on vault, and also finished third in the all-around (39.25) and seventh on beam (9.85). Her outstanding season continued at the Big Ten Conference Championships where Marshall finished second in the all-around (39.275) and on floor (9.9), third on beam (9.8) and fourth on vault (9.9) as Michigan won its fourth consecutive conference championship.

In 1996, Marshall earned Big Ten Gymnast of the Year honors and also received the Phyllis Ocker Award for Academics and Athletics, and the Bob Ufer Spirit Award. Marshall earned first team All-American on beam, floor, and in the all-around and All-Big Ten Conference honors. As a senior, Marshall earned 5th place in the all-around at the NCAA Championships

The Pioneer gymnastics team was ranked No. 8 in the 1996-97 season, marking the first time in school history that the program was ranked. In the 1997-98 season, the Pioneer gymnastics team qualified for the region championships and had several individual state championship qualifiers and three All-Americans. They finished the season ranked No. 3, the second time in as many years that they had been ranked in the top 10.

Marshall graduated from Michigan in 1996 with a bachelor's degree in kinesiology (major in physical education and minor in communication). She currently resides in College Park, Md.

Asst. Coach Bill Lorenz

1st season at Maryland

Massachusetts '97

Bill Lorenz enters his first season as assistant coach of the Maryland women's gymnastics team three years after graduating from the University of Massachusetts with a degree in journalism. Lorenz competed as an NCAA Division I gymnast for Massachusetts for four years.

Lorenz was born on Oct. 5, 1975, in Buffalo, N.Y. He has been involved with gymnastics for almost 20 years and is currently working full-time as the Level 9 and Level 10 head coach at Chantilly Gymnastics Academy in Chantilly, Va.

Along with his journalism degree, Lorenz minored in photography. In addition to coaching gymnastics, Lorenz enjoys scuba diving and is an instructor for that sport as well. Lorenz currently resides in northern Virginia and enjoys watching football in his spare time.

2001 Season Outlook

It is often believed that when a keystone is removed from a piece of architecture that the whole building will undoubtedly collapse. To most fans – and opponents – of the Maryland women's gymnastics team there were two keystones to the program: Gillian Cote and Laura Moon. Therefore, Moon's transfer to Arizona State is detrimental to Maryland's program, right?

Well, gymnastics is physical, but it doesn't always follow the laws of physics. There's always an exception to the rule, and this team is definitely exceptional.

While Moon will be greatly missed by the team, Maryland is fearlessly anticipating the 2001 season and prepared to continue establishing itself as a highly competitive, highly ranked and highly respected national contender.

Head coach Bob Nelligan acknowledges that the loss of Moon changes the face of the program, but not necessarily for the worse.

"I started off the year being very reserved, but now I'm really impressed with where they are."

The team has added five freshmen to the roster who all possess talent which is sure to fast establish them as formidable collegiate athletes. "Our newcomers are strong. Those five freshmen have clearly added the depth we needed. They're fitting right into the system. The combination of the five has made the transition much easier."

For the first time in years, Maryland has a roster with depth and strength in all four events and in the all-around. Before, the team had a few people who the program would be centered around. One or two competitors would be strong going into every meet and then others would step up to fill the other four competition spots. Now everybody's got skill and it's just a matter of deciding who fits in best where in order to put on the best show. Nelligan believes the team is "flashier (and has) more difficulty."

Freshman Sarah Hoenig has had a solid pre-season and should prove to be a big contributor to the team. "I would not be surprised to see Sarah in any event," said Nelligan. "Every practice she brings new things. She is establishing herself on a daily basis as a Division I athlete."

Another newcomer, Becky Bacon, adds perseverance to the team although she is redshirting the 2001 season. "She's fearless. I can tell her to do anything and she'll get up to do it." Stacey Celenski is also redshirting in 2001, but is "showing the maturity of a sophomore," according to Nelligan.

Senior Jodi Morgan is expected to have a break-out season in 2001. According to Nelligan, Morgan is the team's "biggest surprise this season." Morgan is "determined to go out like our seniors in the past," said Nelligan. "She's learned new skills on bars. She has accepted the challenge and is stepping up like we all knew she could." Junior Chrissy Samwell will be "more of a force on bars" as well. Samwell had "very good coaching as a club gymnast," according to Nelligan.

TEAM

Expectations Continue To Grow

Another surprise Maryland will have on bars will be senior co-captain Jill Fisher. Fisher transferred to Maryland in the fall of 1999 and was ranked as the number one floor exercise gymnast in the nation for the majority of the 2000 season. Fisher will be competing as an all-arounder for the first time this year and will be performing on the uneven bars for the first time in her career. Although an ankle sprain has Fisher easing back into things, she is definitely going to be someone to keep an eye on. "She's swinging bars for the first time in her life and she's grabbing everyone's attention," said Nelligan.

As has been the case for the past two seasons, junior twins Alyssa and Lisa Mealey are going to be top competitors on uneven bars for the Terrapins however, this year the twins are prepared to offer much more to the team. In 2000, both Alyssa and Lisa were consistent competitors on floor, and Lisa made her mark on vault as well. This year, look out for the Mealeys on beam. "They want to do it all," said Nelligan. "Lisa is relentless and Alyssa is getting stronger." Nelligan senses that Alyssa and Lisa are "extremely serious about where they are going." In addition to their competitive talent, their attitudes and seniority should prove a positive asset to the team. "Their maturity is going to be a major factor in our quest to compete for a national championship."

On vault, an event in which Maryland struggled some last year, freshman Rachel Sibert brings skill that the Terrapins need. Nelligan says that Sibert "knows exactly where she is and what she's doing."

Junior Kit Johnson is also prepared to be a strong vault competitor for the Terrapins. Johnson, who primarily competed on the balance beam last fall, was a force on vault her freshman season as well, holding the fourth highest vault score ever at the end of her freshman season. In the fall, Johnson was working on the Yurchenko, which is a very competitive vault in which the horse is approached backwards. "She'll be ready to compete it," said Nelligan. "Kit is as elegant as ever. She is so talented. She could do four events any time. She's just very pretty to watch."

Johnson will also continue to be one of Maryland's strongest competitors on beam, along with Fisher, Cote and sophomore Catherine Gardner. Gardner is "probably our most consistent hard worker throughout the early fall," according to Nelligan. She is "becoming a great athlete."

2000 proved that Maryland was a force to be reckoned with on the floor exercise. This season should prove no different with strong routines coming from Fisher, Alyssa and Lisa Mealey, and freshman Katherine Schroeder. Schroeder's skill on floor should compliment Fisher's quite well. "Katherine Schroeder is going to be one of the most exciting people on floor that we've ever had," said Nelligan. "She's more than I expected."

Leading the team with Fisher will be junior Gillian Cote. Cote was a national competitor in 1999 and consistently was one of Maryland's top all-around competitors last year. Cote currently holds Maryland's all-around record with a 39.625. "Gillian has new skills to use on every event," said Nelligan. "She's just more accurate. She's always been a perfectionist, but rather than just wanting to do things right, she's actually doing and performing. She's not content with just being a national competitor; she wants to take it to the next level."

The Terrapins are approaching the 2001 season with a bright attitude and the resolve that they are going to the national championships this year. "I think they believe that they deserve a shot at nationals," said Nelligan. They are "handling themselves as if there are just some minor adjustments" that they have to make in order to be the team that they want to be. "They seem to be more composed and don't question themselves. Every week we start to see a little bit more."

"We're an experienced team," continues Nelligan. "What I'm beginning to see right now is that we may not have a steady performer in Laura Moon, but we have more talent across the board. We should be in a better position to hold on to a high ranking. I think this team is capable of going to nationals."

Bonnie Bernstein: From Maryland Gymnastics to CBS Sports

Following a four-year career (1989-92) as a gymnast at Maryland, Bonnie Bernstein has gone to work for ESPN and is currently with CBS Sports.

2000 Season Recap

The Maryland women's gymnastics team entered the 2000 season ready to continue the course of excellence set by the 1999 team. After the conclusion of the 1999 season, the Terrapins finished No. 1 in the East Atlantic Gymnastics League (EAGL), No. 14 in the nation, and were determined to start the new decade with another explosive season.

While answering to the 1999 season was no easy task, the Terrapins were ready to come back strong and 2000 turned out to be another year of shattered records and historical performances. As a team, the Terps earned five scores that broke into the school's all-time top 10, including the top three highest team scores ever of 195.675 at George Washington on Feb. 7, 195.950 at the Governor's Cup on Feb. 4, and the new all-time high score of 197.125 against Temple on March 10. The team also recorded top scores on the uneven bars and on floor, earning six top 10 uneven bars scores and six top 10 floor scores. Of those top floor scores, five of them were the highest Maryland has ever seen.

Individually, Laura Moon (Scottsdale, Ariz.) and Gillian Cote (Fredericksburg, Va.), along with University of Massachusetts transfer Jill Fisher (Huntington, N.Y.) led the Terps' continued trek to becoming a national gymnastics powerhouse. Moon and Cote were top national all-around performers all year while Fisher was undoubtedly the top floor gymnast in the country for the greater part of the 2000 season.

Jill Fisher

The Terps did not have their achievements handed to them, for from beginning to end their schedule was filled with competition from many other nationally ranked teams. The initial meet of the season pitted the Terps against one of their biggest EAGL rivals – Towson. It was a match-up which found the Terps entering their challenging season with a strong home victory. Continuing the high-scoring trend of 1999, the Terps defeated the Tigers and earned the then-10th highest team score in school history. Moon took the all-around in that meet with a 39.075.

Next, the Terrapins went travelling and got into some road trouble at Arizona State on Jan. 14, placing fourth out of four against Arizona State, Ohio State and Stanford. Despite the defeat, Maryland continued to control the all-around as Moon once again took first place with a 39.025.

A few days later, the Terrapins' first road trip continued out West as the team took on Southern Utah. Maryland earned its first road win against Southern Utah on Jan. 17 by a close final score of 192.925-192.575. Continuing to compete well in the all-around, the Terps once again brought home first place by way of Cote who scored a 39.025.

The victory at Southern Utah was to be the first of a six-meet winning streak for the Terrapins. On Jan. 28, the team found itself back at home to compete in the first of a two-meet weekend series with Radford. Cote won her second consecutive all-around victory with a 38.925, including a 9.9 on the uneven bars, which tied the school record at the time. That meet also found Fisher starting her 10-meet streak of earning a 9.9 or higher in the floor exercise with a 9.925 score to win the event.

Two days later, Maryland closed the weekend series with Radford with another win, sweeping the long-time opponent 2-0 and bringing their all-time series record against Radford to 17-0.

The Terps' next meet was to be one that would go down in the history books as one of Maryland's best. Maryland traveled to Towson to participate in the fifth annual Governor's Cup. The classic meet pits two Maryland schools (Maryland and Towson) against two North Carolina schools (North Carolina and N.C. State). The Terps led the state of Maryland to victory by earning first place with a 195.950, breaking the then-school record. In the victory, Cote won her third all-around title of the year with a 39.325. But the biggest thrill of the evening came when Fisher earned a perfect 10 in the floor exercise. Fisher's score was the first time in Maryland history that a gymnast ever scored a perfect 10 in any event.

After the impressive Governor's Cup victory, the Terps' next major meet was against New Hampshire, Bowling Green and George Washington. Despite placing fourth, Fisher continued to control the floor exercise, bringing home first place with a score of 9.925. The loss failed to weaken the spirits of the team, for they jumped right back and defeated each of their last five opponents except for then-No. 3 Michigan on Feb. 26.

The Terps closed out the regular season with two home meets that proved to be record breakers for individuals as well as the team. On March 2, Maryland hosted a tri-meet against James Madison and Western Michigan. Not only did Maryland top both schools with a team score of 195.05, the ninth-highest team score ever, but Moon broke the all-around record that evening with a 39.5. The meet also found twins Alyssa and Lisa Mealey breaking their career floor exercise records with a 9.825 and a 9.8, respectively.

The following week proved to be even more momentous as the Terrapins closed out the season against Temple. Fisher earned a 9.95 on floor marking her ninth consecutive meet scoring a 9.9 or higher on floor. Moon earned career-high scores on bars with a 9.925, on floor with a 9.925 and matched her career-high, school record all-around score of 39.5. Cote earned career-high scores on vault (9.875), bars (9.925), floor (9.975), and then broke the all-around record, set by Moon the week before, with a 39.625. To conclude the evening, Maryland finished with a team score of 197.125

Maryland finished the regular season strong, with Moon earning an all-time high of 39.5 in the all-around on March 2 against James Madison and Western Michigan only to have it broken by Cote the following week against Temple with a 39.625.

While the post-season did not find the Terrapins making their way to Boise, Idaho for the national championship, the women still gave performances to be proud of. At the EAGL Championships in Pittsburgh, Pa., Maryland came in third with a 195.05. En route to that team score, Fisher broke the EAGL Championship floor exercise record with a 9.975, earning first place. Sophomore Kit Johnson scored well on both vault (9.8) and beam (9.775), to tie for the fourth-highest score and the third-highest score, respectively, in those events. Senior co-captain Rachel Dolbin earned a career-high 9.825 on vault, and Cote and Moon finished fifth and seventh in the all-around, respectively.

After placing third at EAGL's, the Terrapins advanced to the Southeast Regional meet where their season would end with them placing fourth out of six with a 193.775. The Terps won beam that evening with a 48.75 and tied for second on bars with a 48.65, but failed to advance to nationals. Moon, however, placed third in the all-around with a 39.075 and went on to represent the Terps at nationals. While she did not place, she gave solid performances and did not earn less than a 9.7 in an event.

Looking back on the 2000 season, the Terrapins were very successful, athletically and otherwise. Overall Maryland finished No. 3 in the EAGL and No. 21 nationally. In the all-league selections, Maryland had six for first team and seven on the second. Twelve members of the team were selected to the EAGL All-Academic team. Another academic achievement for the team was the women receiving the President's Cup for the second consecutive year for being the women's athletic team with the highest cumulative GPA at the university.

2000 was definitely a season to remember for, and with nine women returning, the Terps should continue treading on the path to national success.

2000 EAGL Recap

In just five seasons of competition the East Atlantic Gymnastics League (EAGL) has become a prominent league in NCAA Division I gymnastics.

Last season marked the third year in a row that an EAGL team went to the NCAA Championship meet. In addition, four EAGL teams were ranked in the final NCAA Top 25 and seven of the eight EAGL teams advanced to three different NCAA Regional meets.

West Virginia finished second in the Region 2 meet at the University of Minnesota earning a second straight trip to the NCAA Championship meet at Boise State. Rutgers, Pittsburgh and New Hampshire all competed in the Region 5 meet at Penn State where the Scarlet Knights turned in an impressive fourth place finish while Pitt and UNH were fifth and sixth.

At the Region 6 meet at Georgia, EAGL champion NC State, Maryland and Towson all competed. Towson nearly qualified for nationals by finishing third in the meet with a 194.325 score, just 0.375 points behind second place Brigham Young. BYU advanced to nationals while Maryland and NC State were fourth and fifth in the regional.

At nationals, West Virginia finished 12th in the nation with a 194.175 team score. The NCAA Championship appearance was the Mountaineers' second in a row and third trip since 1995.

In addition, the EAGL was represented at nationals by Gabi Weller of Towson and Laura Moon of Maryland, each of whom qualified as an individual all-around. The co-winner of the EAGL Gymnast of the Year award, Weller became the league's third All-American as she earned first team honors in vault. She tied for fourth in the nation with a 9.90 score and became the first Towson gymnast to be named first team All-American.

The fifth annual EAGL Championship Meet was the most competitive in the league's brief history. The top four teams were separated by less than one point as NC State came from behind to win its second straight EAGL championship.

The Wolfpack turned in a very strong effort on bars and floor to overtake Maryland and win the title with a 196.000 team score. NC State's 196.000 team score was just shy of the meet record that the Wolfpack set in 1999 as the team won its first EAGL crown.

Juniors Amy Langendorf and Kara Charles led NC State to the title. A first team All-EAGL selection on bars and all-around, Langendorf tied for second place in the EAGL all-around competition with a 39.275 score. She also tied for fourth place on bars (9.90) and beam (9.80). Charles finished fourth in the all-around with a 38.975. Senior Jennifer Sommer also had a big meet for the Wolfpack. She tied for first place on beam (9.85) and tied for fourth on floor exercise (9.90).

Host Pittsburgh had its best EAGL finish ever as the Panthers were runners-up with a 195.275 score. Senior Danielle "Freddie" Alba led Pitt to the second place finish. She tied for second place in the all-around with a 39.275 score and also tied for first place on the balance beam with a 9.85. Maryland took third place in the meet with a 195.05, just ahead of fourth place Towson (195.025).

Weller won the EAGL all-around title with a 39.30 and she tied the EAGL record in winning the vault (9.925). Kristen Macrie of West Virginia finished first on bars, tying the EAGL record with a 9.95 score. Jill Fisher of Maryland set an EAGL record as she won floor exercise with a 9.975 score.

While the EAGL enjoyed another very successful year, the success of the league has not been limited to athletic competition. For the second year in a row, a record 88 gymnasts were honored as members of the EAGL All-Academic team. In five seasons, a total of 371 student-athletes have been named to the EAGL All-Academic team. (640)

History of the EAGL

The East Atlantic Gymnastics League became a reality on July 31, 1995 when eight prominent universities banded together to form a consortium created solely for the purpose of showcasing women's gymnastics on the East Coast.

Representing three conferences and six states, the EAGL is comprised of the University of Maryland, the University of North Carolina and North Carolina State University of the Atlantic Coast Conference, the University of Pittsburgh, Rutgers University and West Virginia University of the BIG EAST Conference and the University of New Hampshire and Towson University of AMERICA EAST. In August, 1996, the NCAA Council accepted the EAGL as an official affiliated member of the NCAA.

EAGL schools have had a long history of gymnastics success. Prior to joining the EAGL, Towson won eight Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) championships while New Hampshire won four ECAC titles. West Virginia won four straight Atlantic-10 Conference titles before leaving that league to join the EAGL.

Prior to joining the EAGL, seven of the eight schools had competed in the NCAA regionals. Towson, New Hampshire and West Virginia had all gone on to NCAA championship competition. Towson was ninth in the nation in 1990 while UNH qualified for nationals in 1994 and WVU made the trip in 1995, in 1982.

In 1999, EAGL schools represented the league quite nicely. For the second year in a row, an EAGL school went to the NCAA Championship Meet. In addition, six of the eight EAGL schools qualified for NCAA regional competition and EAGL schools finished one-two at the USA Gymnastics Championship Meet.

West Virginia University, winner of three of the first four EAGL championships, advanced to Nationals and finished 12th in the nation. The Mountaineers qualified for Nationals by finishing second in the Region 6 Meet at WVU.

The league just missed having two teams qualify for Nationals as North Carolina State was the alternate. The Wolfpack, who won the 1999 EAGL Championship, had finished third at the Regionals.

West Virginia's appearance at Nationals came on the heels of NC State's appearance at the 1998 Nationals. In 1998, the Wolfpack went to Nationals for the first time in school history and finished 11th in the nation.

West Virginia and NC State were two of six teams that went to NCAA Regional Meets in 1999. New Hampshire and Pittsburgh went to the Region 5 Championship at Penn State while Maryland and Towson joined West Virginia and NC State at the Region 6 Meet.

At the 1999 USA Gymnastics NIT Meet, Towson edged Rutgers for the prestigious championship. It was Towson's second NIT title in four years.

When the season ended, the EAGL had three teams in the top 20 (West Virginia, NC State, Maryland).

In 1999, NC State ended West Virginia's run of three consecutive championships as the Wolfpack had a school and EAGL Championship record score of 196.05, edging host Maryland which had a 195.475 score. New Hampshire was third with a 194.80 and North Carolina took fourth place at 194.675.

Sophomore Brooke Wilson of North Carolina was the outstanding individual performer at the EAGL Meet. She took first place in the all-around with a 39.325 score and set a meet record on beam with a 9.95, taking first place in the event.

Senior Liane Williams of Towson, honored as the EAGL Senior Gymnast of the Year, was a double winner as she won the vault with a 9.875 and tied for first on floor with a 9.90. Langendorf and Charles led NC State to its first EAGL title.

Langendorf tied for first on bars with Dawn Campbell of Rutgers with a 9.9 score. Charles was fourth in the all-around with a 39.175. Kelli Brown also had a strong meet, tying for second place in vault with a 9.85 and tying for third on bars with a 9.875.

Maryland finished as EAGL runner-up with a 195.475 as Coach Bob Nelligan was named as the EAGL Coach of the Year. Freshman Laura Moon was second in the all-around (39.275) while Terp freshman Gillian Cote, the EAGL Rookie of the Year, was ninth in the all-around.

Junior Danielle "Freddie" Alba of Pittsburgh, the EAGL Gymnast of the Year, took third in the all-around with a 39.175 score.

In 1998, the EAGL Meet was held at Rutgers and six of the eight teams qualified for the NCAA Regionals. West Virginia, NC State and Maryland all qualified for the Southeast Regional while New Hampshire, Pittsburgh and Rutgers made it to the Northeast Regional.

Bob Nelligan was named 1999 EAGL Coach of the Year.

West Virginia won the meet for the third year in a row with a 195.50 score. New Hampshire edged N.C. State for second place as the Wildcats posted a 193.85 score to the 193.825 earned by the Wolfpack. Maryland finished fourth in the meet with a 192.675, edging Towson as the Tigers posted a 192.45 score, barely missing a 12th straight NCAA regional berth.

Senior Umme Salim of West Virginia led the Mountaineers to the championship. The EAGL Gymnast of the Year, she was first in the all-around with a 39.45 while also winning the bars (9.95) and beam (9.925).

In 1997, NC State hosted the meet and West Virginia claimed its second straight title. The 11th-ranked Mountaineers had a 196.00 team score to edge the Wolfpack (195.100) for the title. New Hampshire was third (193.10) while Pittsburgh was fourth with a 192.85. North Carolina (192.325) finished fifth, ahead of Towson (192.100), Maryland (191.755) and Rutgers (190.05).

Towson's Erin Shanley became the first EAGL gymnast to successfully defend a title as she earned a 9.925 on bars to tie Pittsburgh's Samantha Salyers for first in the event. Shanley also won the vault with a 9.90 while UNH's Cara Lepper and WVU's Danielle Lilly tied for first on the beam with a 9.90. Kristin Quackenbush won the EAGL floor title with a 9.95 effort, a score that clinched the championship for WVU.

The EAGL was well-represented at the NCAA Regionals for the second year in a row as West Virginia, North Carolina State and Towson advanced to the Southeast regionals while New Hampshire and Pitt qualified for the Northeast regionals.

Quackenbush was honored as the EAGL Gymnast of the Year as well as the Outstanding Senior Gymnast. North Carolina's Molly Gardner was named as the EAGL Scholar-Athlete. Maryland's Rachle Dolbin was named the EAGL's Top Rookie while Dick Filbert of Towson was named as the EAGL Coach of the Year.

Shanley was the most-decorated Towson gymnast, earning first team All-EAGL in vault, bars, floor exercise and all-around in addition to second team All-EAGL on beam. She was a unanimous pick on floor and all-around. Heather Hanson of Towson was a first team pick on beam.

In 1996, NC State became the first EAGL team to represent the league at the NCAA National Championship Meet. The Wolfpack had a 195.125 to finish third at the regional meet at Georgia, qualifying for nationals.

The crowning jewel of the inaugural EAGL season was the league championship meet, hosted by West Virginia. In a competition that came down to the last rotation, West Virginia tallied 194.60 points to edge Towson's 193.725. NC State was third with a 192.30, followed closely by Maryland (192.15), New Hampshire (191.70), North Carolina (189.30), Pitt (189.15) and Rutgers (188.00).

In the individual events, Shanley was a double winner, tying for first on bars (9.90) and floor (9.80). Quackenbush won the vault outright with a 9.925. On bars, EAGL Co-Rookie of the Year Cara Lepper of UNH matched Shanley's 9.90 to tie for first.

Co-Rookie of the Year Liane Williams of Towson and Jessica Nonnemacher of WVU tied for first on the balance beam with 9.825 marks.

Newton was named as the first EAGL Gymnast of the Year as well as Outstanding Senior Gymnast in a vote of league coaches. Sari Lehmuskallio of Towson easily won the EAGL Scholar-Athlete Award with her 3.96 grade point average in mass communication. She graduated from Towson in just three years. West Virginia's Linda Burdette was named as the EAGL Coach of the Year.

Ritchie Coliseum, Home of the Terps

The 1997-98 season marked the first time that Maryland gymnastics had competed anywhere except North Gym. Maryland gymnastics opened the Ritchie Coliseum era on Jan. 9 against EAGL-rival No. 24 Towson where the Terps defeated the Tigers, 188.575 to 185.125. It marked the first time since the 1988 season that Maryland had defeated Towson. The good fortune of the gymnastics team in Ritchie continued throughout the year as the Terps compiled a 4-1 record in Ritchie during the 1998 season.

In 1999, Maryland continued to compete well at home, with a 5-1 record at Ritchie. However, in 2000 the Terps were able to improve upon that record and had their first undefeated season in their new home. Maryland also earned it's highest team score ever of 197.125 at Ritchie Coliseum in 2000.

As the enthusiasm surrounding the gymnastics program increased over the last few seasons, so did the support from the fans and the turnout for each meet. Ritchie Coliseum's official seating capacity is 1,500, with seating located just several feet away from each event. Fans can either sit on bleachers, bringing them face-to-face with the competitors, or in the seat-back chairs located in the upper-bowl of the coliseum, providing more comfortable viewing. It gives all fans the opportunity to view the gymnasts from every angle and also enables them to feel like a part of the action as they can feel the intensity that accompanies every vault, dismount, flip, and performance.

Ritchie Coliseum was designed for all University of Maryland students. It is equipped with a new volleyball and basketball floor, a state-of-the-art weightlifting/conditioning room and martial arts room. Those not into weight training can enroll in various classes offered by the Campus Recreation Department. Whatever one's level, there is a class that fits one's needs.

Originally built in 1931, Ritchie Coliseum joined campus landmarks such as the Rossborough Inn and Turner Dairy on Route 1 in downtown College Park. The gymnasium joined the then nine-year-old 5,000-seat Byrd Stadium as one of the prime athletic facilities more than 70 years ago.

Ritchie Coliseum is located across the street from the Rossborough Inn on Route 1 in College Park, and resides right next to Fraternity Row.

Strength & Conditioning

One of the most unique aspects of Maryland's women's gymnastics team is the nature of its strength and conditioning program. "We have a vigorous weight program," says head coach Bob Nelligan. "We're physically more tough, and the support staff that's allowing us to do this should be applauded."

Barry Kagan

The team's strength and conditioning coach, Barry Kagan, has been a part of Maryland's strength and conditioning program since 1993 and has worked with the gymnasts for about five years.

According to Kagan, the gymnastics weight training program is one that is constantly changing. "It's continuously adapting depending on the individual needs of the current team," said Kagan.

The primary goal of the team's program is injury prevention. Next, the weight program strives to enhance each gymnasts' performance. "Most gymnastics programs take a fairly conservative approach, doing moderate weight training," said Kagan. "We take a very balanced approach, emphasizing strength over muscular endurance, as most of the other programs do."

The team begins lifting in September upon returning to campus. The first two weeks are comprised of a learning/reacquaintance phase. "Most gymnasts don't lift in the style that we do," said Kagan. "We want to make sure they are ready to take on the more complicated lifts."

After the two-week introductory period the team progresses into a complex training program which involves several Olympic-style lifts. The main lower body exercise is the squat exercise, to enhance lower body stability. For upper body training, the women use dumbbells rather than bars to alleviate some of the stress on the shoulders. The girls also train aerobically in September and October to prepare for full routines.

"In season, our approach becomes more of a maintenance phase," said Kagan. "We alternate the daily intensity of the lifts by organizing around the meet schedule." The women lift as a team twice a week with occasional conditioning circuits in the gym.

As for strength-to-body weight ratio, the gymnasts are the "strongest women in the department," said Kagan.

The Terrapins are fortunate to train in one of the premier weight training facilities in the country. Conveniently located in the Gossett Football Team House, this facility has excellent aesthetic appeal, with two magnificent skylights and large windows overlooking the playing field at Byrd Stadium. The Terps' spacious weight room includes 7,200 square feet of functional floor space, with two elevated offices that are easily accessible to the training floor.

Maryland gymnasts train with some of the best equipment available, including 20,000 pounds of customized York free weights, seven pieces of Keiser progressive air resistance machines, and a full line of Hammer strength equipment. The weight complex also features immense, self-contained rack stations, Olympic lifting platforms with Eleiko bumper plates, and 10 upper body pressing stations.

Practice Makes Perfect at North Gym

The Maryland gymnastics team practices in the North Gym, located near the Campus Recreation Center. North Gym is a state of the art gymnastics facility that covers 18,000 square feet. There are two spring floor exercise mats which lie side-by-side with a travelling overhead spotting rig used for vaulting as well as floor exercise. There are spotting belts that are placed above the uneven bars, the single rail bar, and the trampolines. The single rail bar, tumbling strip and vaulting area are all connected into or onto brand new fitted Tiffin resi pits. Twenty centimeter mats surround AAI uneven bars and five new AAI Elite series balance beams. One of the most attractive features of the practice facility is the lighting, which is soft and leaves no shadows anywhere in the gym. Finally, there is a glassed-in trampoline room with four-string bed Goliath tramps surrounded by spotting platforms and 12-inch landing mats.

Leading the Way into the 21st Century

- A Carnegie Research-I University
- Member, Assoc. of American Universities (AAU)
- Flagship of the University System of Maryland
- NCAA Division I Athletics

"Strive for clarity, but accept and understand ambiguity."

That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Twelve years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.

Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment."

As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions, and accept ambiguity."

And we also hope you enjoy the journey.

University of Maryland

The Campus

The University of Maryland, College Park, is the most comprehensive institution of higher education, research and service in the state. The university offers 100 undergraduate majors, 88 master's programs and 69 doctoral programs in 13 colleges and schools.

The university is one of only 30 public research universities that are members of the prestigious 58-member Association of American Universities. It is classified as a Research-I university by the Carnegie Foundation by virtue of the range of its baccalaureate programs, the amount of federal support received and the number of doctoral degrees awarded each year, sharing that honor with the top research universities in the country.

Among the public universities in the Association of American Universities, Maryland ranks among the top in percentage of African-American undergraduate students. In addition, the university has the largest number of African-Americans and other minority members among its peers.

Flagship Status

In 1988, the University of Maryland, College Park, was designated as the flagship institution for the University System of Maryland. As well as pursuing a serious research mission and continuing its high level of service to the state, the university rededicated itself to providing the highest quality graduate and undergraduate education. Increased undergraduate opportunities for research and individual study; the development of the College Park Scholars Program and the expansion of the University Honors Program; the genesis of Honors Humanities and Gemstone; the creation of CORE, the general education program; and the establishment of the Center for Teaching Excellence all affirmed the legislature's designation of flagship.

Libraries

Seven libraries make up the University of Maryland library system: McKeldin (main) Library, Architecture Library, Art Library, Engineering and Physical Sciences Library, Hornbake Library, Performing Arts Library, White Memorial (Chemistry) Library.

These libraries constitute the largest university research library institution in the Washington metropolitan area, providing vital resources to researchers, visiting scholars, and businesses throughout the region. The libraries' holdings include more than 2.5 million volumes, 24,000 subscriptions to periodicals and nearly 5 million items available in microfilm format.

Research

Opportunities for conducting research abound at the University of Maryland, College Park, and in the surrounding area, both for faculty to advance their own expertise and bring their insights into the classroom, and for students to begin their exploration of their special interests with practical experience. On campus, special facilities and a number of organized research centers, bureaus, and institutes promote the acquisition and analysis of new knowledge in the arts, sciences and applied fields.

The university's enviable location — just nine miles from downtown Washington, D.C., and approximately 30 miles from both Baltimore and Annapolis — enhances the research of its faculty and students by providing access to some of the finest libraries and research centers in the country.

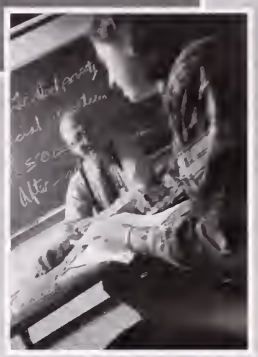
Service

Programs of public service are central to the overall mission of the university. The philosophy is reflected in the wide array of programs and initiatives that benefit the state's business, agriculture and education communities.

With more than 90 high technology firms in the three-county area of Montgomery, Prince George's and Frederick counties, the university has found abundant opportunity to extend its business and technology outreach programs to the region. Many of these programs are part of the Engineering Research Center, which operates the Technology Advancement Program and the Maryland Industrial Partnerships, programs designed to provide Maryland entrepreneurs and small businesses with research facilities, technical assistance, administrative support, and access to technology that will advance their economic base.

The Institute for Systems Research has formed partnerships with major corporations, including Lockheed Martin, Westinghouse, BF Goodrich, Hughes Aircraft and Dupont to apply advanced systems research to solving industry problems in the fields of communications, manufacturing, controls and robotics.

The University of Maryland features a diversity of cultural and recreational activities. Four art galleries, more than 200 annual musical performances and countless dance and theater productions, expose audiences to the broadest range of programs in the arts. And intercollegiate, club and intramural sports provide students of all levels an opportunity to participate as spectators or athletes.



President C.D. Mote, Jr.

C.D. (Dan) Mote Jr. took office as president in September 1998 with a clear vision for taking the University of Maryland down the home stretch to its destiny as one of America's great research universities.

Mote came to Maryland from the University of California at Berkeley, where he had earned all of his degrees, and where he had served in faculty and administration more than 30 years. He had most recently been vice chancellor for university relations.

In Maryland, he found a university already well on its way to achieving the greatness envisioned when the General Assembly declared it the flagship institution of the University System of Maryland. Mote immediately took a leadership role on the Governor's Task Force on Governance, Coordination and Funding of the University System of Maryland to gain greater autonomy and flexibility for the university to pursue its goals. He followed that by working closely with state leaders to boost university funding for new programs, scholarships and faculty, gaining 10 percent appropriations increases in each of his first two years.

Mote spelled out in his inauguration address his vision of Maryland as a great research university, where teaching and research are "inseparable." In this plan, the faculty creates a culture of excellence that permeates the university, student success is the center of all activity, and the extended Maryland family of alumni and friends grows rich in pride and tradition.

High achievement has been Dan Mote's life, from his student days at the University of California through his years as an outstanding teacher and world-renowned researcher and his leadership of a highly successful capital campaign at Berkeley.

By the end of Mote's second year at Maryland, the university's ongoing capital campaign, Bold Vision • Bright Future, had raised nearly $300 million of a $350 million goal, including such landmark donations as Clarice Smith's $15 million for the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center and Comcast Corporation's $25 million for the Comcast Center. But Mote has said repeatedly that development and capital campaigns are not principally about raising money.

"They are about the university building relationships, with its alumni and friends of the university through the quality people and quality programs on campus. If we succeed in building authentic relationships, fund-raising happens as easily as the women's lacrosse team scores a goal."

Mote and his wife Patsy live in the President's Residence on the College Park campus. They have two grown children and four grandchildren.

Maryland Athletics

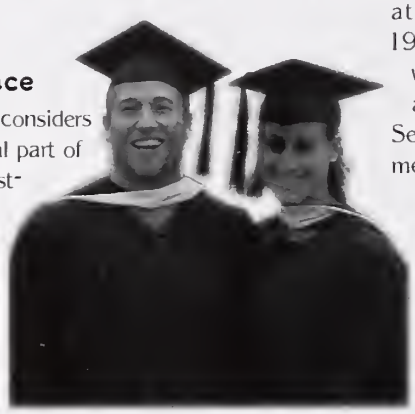
Among The Nation's Best

This is Maryland Athletics

At the University of Maryland, winning is not taken lightly. Like the rich history of all its sports programs, championships are a tradition.

Since the 1950s, Maryland has established itself as one of the most successful athletic programs in the nation. This type of success is no accident; it has been built year-by-year on the achievements of outstanding young men and women who were given the opportunity to excel both on and off the field of play. The victories, the championships and the national acclaim are all ingredients of the Maryland athletic program. Student-athletes who attend Maryland are part of a program and a university which thrives on tradition and excellence.

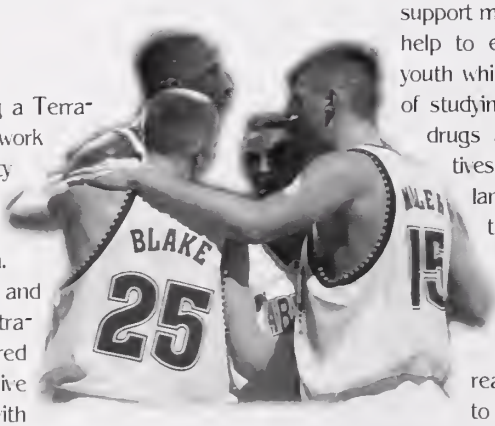
Academic Excellence



The University of Maryland considers intercollegiate athletics an integral part of the collegiate experience. Its existence provides an opportunity for students, faculty, alumni and students to share in the life of intercollegiate athletics.

The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to achieve the same standards of excellence in its athletic program as exist within the university's teaching, research and public service programs. The department embraces the concept that the student-athlete is first and foremost a student, possessing academic abilities, personal interests and ambitions comparable to those of the other members of the student body. Since 1983, 88 percent of freshmen scholarship athletes who completed their eligibility at the University of Maryland earned their degrees.

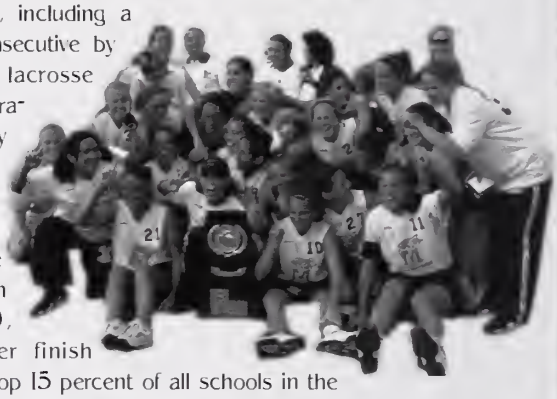
Goals



The great thing about being a Terrapin is the commitment to hard work and dedication. At the University of Maryland, the athletic department is dedicated to supporting a well-balanced Division I program. Athletic director Deborah A. Yow and her dedicated coaches, administrators and staff have re-engineered the department into a responsive and financially sound model — with a clear vision and a determined drive toward national prominence.

Athletic Success

National championships, conference championships, national rankings and postseason play are all a part of the University of Maryland experience. The University of Maryland has established itself as one of the nation's elite athletic programs. The Terrapins have won 15 national championships, including a record six consecutive by the women's lacrosse team. The Terrapins had plenty of reason to celebrate when it came to intercollegiate athletics in 1999-2000, with another finish among the top 15 percent of all schools in the Sears Directors' Cup, which measures overall athletic achievement in men's and women's sports.

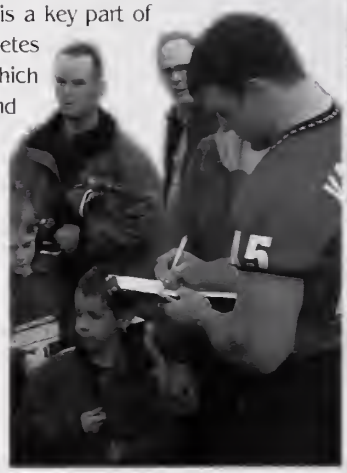


Competition

Wearing the Maryland uniform means playing in front of some of the loudest and most supportive fans in the nation. It means playing against the best teams in the country, in the most prestigious conference in the country, the ACC. It means wearing the school colors with pride. It means doing your best in athletics and academics. It is a unique and special feeling being a Terrapin.

Athletes in the Community

From the media spotlight to the community spotlight, Terrapin student-athletes strengthen the ties of the local community by serving as role models. Community service is a key part of the Terrapins' agenda. Student-athletes support many community programs which help to enrich the lives of Maryland youth while teaching the importance of studying hard and saying "no" to drugs and alcohol. Representatives from the University of Maryland athletic department speak to participants and use their image and the appeal of sports to encourage Maryland children to stay in school, improve their reading and writing skills, and to receive their high school diplomas.



Athletic Director Deborah A. Yow

Dr. Deborah A. Yow is in the seventh year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland ... a year in which she also has assumed the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics, an organization with a membership of more than 6,100 athletic administrators representing 1,600 colleges and universities in North America and Mexico.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony to her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability. Likewise, her election to the presidency of NACDA is an indication of the respect with which Dr. Yow is regarded in intercollegiate athletics and education in the U.S. and Canada.

In October 2000, Yow was named Female Sports Executive of the Year by the editors of Street & Smith's SportsBusiness Journal.

Also as a member of the NCAA Management Council and NCAA Division I Budget Committee, Yow presents a strong voice for excellence and integrity at the highest levels of intercollegiate athletics. In these national roles she has represented the University of Maryland and the Atlantic Coast Conference with a balanced and proactive voice.

Since taking over at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Balanced all six of the nearly $30 million annual budgets (the first balanced budgets for the Terrapins in 10 years prior to her arrival).
- Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided to student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of nearly 90 percent during her tenure.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 15 percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.
- Reorganized and upgraded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased 135% and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by 270% during her tenure at Maryland.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Paid off approximately $7 million in operating debt accrued before her arrival in 1994.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fundraising applications.
- Significantly improved customer care in every area.

Maryland athletic director Deborah A. Yow took over as president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics in July 2000.

The Maryland Department of Athletics has made remarkable progress under Yow's leadership. Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past six years, Dr. Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied ... our vision is to be one of the top 10 programs in the nation consistently ... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools ... to work hard and work smart ... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves." As a manager and leader, she clearly models these principles. In 1999, she was singled out by Street & Smith's SportsBusiness Journal as one of the leading athletic administrators in the U.S.

A former basketball coach, she began her coaching career at the high school level in North Carolina before taking over as head women's coach at the University of Kentucky in 1976. She also achieved an outstanding coaching record as head coach at the University of Florida. She later moved into athletic administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina-Greensboro, followed by a highly successful tenure as A.D. at Saint Louis University.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics, management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

Summing up the entire Terrapin athletic program, Yow recently observed, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets and our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the Maryland Educational Foundation and M Club members who serve and give liberally. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our successes ... and the basis for our bright future."

National Successes

The Terps enjoyed across-the-board success in 1999-2000, with the following varsity programs earning Top 30 rankings at one time or another during their respective seasons of competition, and two teams capturing national championships (field hockey, women's lacrosse).

Basketball (Men's)

Athletic Administration

Kathleen Worthington

Associate A.D./Internal Operations

Kathleen Worthington was named associate athletic director for internal operations in May 1999. She came to Maryland from Morehead State University, where she had served as associate A.D. since February 1998 after spending two years as an assistant athletic director.

At Maryland, Worthington is responsible for supervision of baseball, volleyball, women's basketball, women's gymnastics, men's and women's track, and men's and women's cross country. She also oversees the sports medicine and strength and conditioning units in addition to managing ACC and NCAA tournaments hosted by the university.

During her time at Morehead State, her primary focus was business operations, compliance, policy development, and strategic planning. Prior to Morehead State, Worthington spent two years as the assistant to the AD at the University of Wisconsin-LaCrosse.

She also has served as a marketing and media relations specialist and as director of athletics and community youth programs for Catholic Charities, Eastern Region, in New York state.

She earned her bachelor's degree in mass communications from the College of Notre Dame in Maryland in 1985. She earned a master's degree in public relations from Syracuse and a master's in athletics administration from Wisconsin-LaCrosse.

She was inducted into College of Notre Dame's Athletic Hall of Fame in 1997 and in 1999 was named an NCAA Leadership Fellow. In 1996, she earned the graduate student achievement award from UW-LaCrosse.

Academic Support & Career Development

The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics is committed to the academic success and career development of student athletes. In support of this commitment the department sponsors the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU).

Mission

The mission of the unit is (1) to provide quality developmental programs and need based services that will enhance the opportunity to earn an undergraduate degree, (2) offer career development opportunities and (3) support the psychosocial growth of student athletes through special initiatives.

Staff

Nine full-time professionals, two graduate assistants, tutorial support staff and student associates comprise the unit's workforce. Associate Director Karen Schiferl serves as the ASCDU liasion with the track and field team.

ASCDU & The University

Primary academic advising is provided by professional advisors assigned to each student athlete by his or her home college, school or department. The ASCDU counselors serve as an important support network that coordinates and implements transitional and developmental programs to address the academic and career development needs of student athletes. In cooperation with the Office of Records and Registration, ASCDU monitors academic progress of student athletes to assure that NCAA, ACC, and University rules and regulations are met.

Location

The primary ASCDU unit is conveniently located on the ground floor of Cole Field House where student athletes have access to various resources and services. Each academic counselor has private office space in order to insure meeting privacy. A study table room is staffed by proctors and arranged to maximize student focus and concentration. The facility also houses a tutorial room devoted to servicing the learning needs of student athletes. The staff maintains two computer resource laboratories with a total of 40 personal computers containing up-to-date software packages. In addition, ASCDU coordinates a laptop computer service that provides each team access to laptop computers while traveling to away competitions.

There is also a satellite computer room in the Gossett Football Team House. Three of the nine ASCDU professionals are currently housed in the building.

The Future

In the summer of 2002, the $124 million Comcast Center will become the new home of the ASCDU unit. A 7,000 square foot wing has been developed to replace the current space in Cole Field House. The new home of ASCDU will be conveniently located on the floor where offices of coaches for 20 sports will also be placed. The close proximity was designed to facilitate communication among ASCDU staff, coaches and student athletes. The satellite computer lab in the Gossett Football Team House will continue to operate. In addition, a building addition of an auditorium which will seat 140 is currently planned for the Gossett Football Team House. That space will be available for use by the entire athletic program, including ASCDU.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Prospective student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Mentor program
- EDCP 108-J (Career decision making and planning)
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-O (First-year transitions to the university)

Media Guidelines

Credentials: Media and photographer credentials for events at Maryland's Ritchie Coliseum may be obtained by working press, radio and television by writing or calling Cherise Rhyns in the Maryland Athletic Media Relations Office, 1112 Cole Field House, College Park, MD 20741-0295. All requests should be submitted at least 48 hours prior to the event by phoning the Media Relations Office at (301) 314-1483. Since space is limited, accommodations are on a priority basis: daily newspapers and wire services, originating radio and television stations, national weekly or monthly publications, electronic media outlets, local and regional television crews. Priority is granted to members of the media who cover Maryland athletics on a regular basis, and to visiting media members. Photo passes will be issued only to accredited photographers on assignment.

Services: The Media Relations Office will provide complete statistics at the conclusion of every home meet. Programs containing rosters and event notes on each team will be provided for the working media.

Fax Machine: The Media Relations Office has one facsimile machine, located in Room 1112 of Cole Field House, which is available upon request. The fax number is (301) 314-9094.

Mediateamlink.com: Releases, statistics and other sports information from all ACC schools as well as other conferences and institutions around the country are available by accessing www.mediateamlink.com. You can have updated documents delivered directly to your e-mail and/or fax machine the moment they are updated. You can also view documents on-line. MediaTeamlink is FREE to all accredited media. Log on to www.mediateamlink.com if you do not already have an account, and click the "Sign Up Here" button and complete the short form.

Terrapin Fan Phone: For up-to-date reports, comments from coaches, and other Maryland athletic department information, phone the Terrapin Fan Phone at (301) 314-TERP.
